Vote Tues. On SB Project

Four Proposals Before Students

By Harold Kurtz

Biggest news on the student government front this week continues to be the Student Body Project. Students will decide Tuesday at convocation which of four items they want for this year's fund-raising.

Here are the four proposals as named by a special project committee headed by senior Bill Jurgens:

—1. An outdoor bulletin board for the campus. To be erected in a central location, the board will cost an estimated $1,500.

—2. Furnishings for the new library. Included in the $2,000 estimate are such items as check-out desks, card catalog and other furnishings.

—3. Furnishings for the lounge in Clinton Hall, new men's dorm. Cost of this project would run around $4,000.

—4. New scoreboards for Knights Gymnasium. Cost for the proposed two scoreboards would be about $1,800.

ACCORDING TO JURGENS, there will be a two-part ballot. The first part will be a "yes" or "no" vote on whether students want a project or not. The second part will determine what the project will be, if passed.

Date for the start of the drive has been set at March 1. A goal will be determined after the project is decided upon.

IN OTHER STUDENT government news, student senators met Monday evening with the SB Project as their main item. Also on the agenda were discussions on Spiritual Emphasis Week and the need for a campus telephone in the Student Union.

Senators voiced informal approval of the idea before referring the matter to committee for further research. Senators also voted to have a convocation questionnaire on the value and effects of Spiritual Emphasis Week.

Arlow Bice Named Station Manager

Head station personnel for KWAR, campus radio station, have been named for next year, according to an announcement made by Bruce Friedrich, station manager.

Chosen to head the FM station is junior Arlow Bice, Ripon, Wis. Acting as chief engineer will be Dennis Thurow, freshman from Madison, S.D., while Paul Ahrens, freshman from Cresco, will be program director.

These three will be responsible for the overall supervision of the station, the maintenance of the broadcasting equipment and the presentation of programs.

The new personnel are now taking in-service training and will take over operation of the station after Easter vacation.

STUDENTS CROWDED the cafeteria last night at the Student Senate-sponsored mixer following the Wesleyan game. Close to four hundred student's attended.

Knightlife?

LUTHER APPEARS TO LIKE VICTOR

Sir Victor, Wartburg's knightly suit of armor, made a disappearance and a reappearance this week.

The Knight, traditional symbol for Wartburg, disappeared earlier this week and its absence was first noticed Thursday morning by Trumpet reporter Grace Jahn. Subsequent disclosures revealed that traditional knight-stealer Luther College again had it.

Luther officials found Sir Victor hanging from the rafters in Preuss Gymnasium Friday morning. It was returned last night by officials of the college.

Princeton Fellow To Teach Greek

The Rev. Raymond Harms of the Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N. J., will teach Greek at Wartburg next year in place of Dr. A. E. Haefner, who is taking a leave of absence.

Pastor Harms received his A. B. degree from Wartburg College in 1951, a B. D. from Wartburg Seminary in 1954 and a Th. M. from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1955. He has been a teaching fellow in Greek at Princeton since 1955 and is currently working on his Th. D. in New Testament at that school.

Got Acting Ability? Lestrud Wants You

More students are needed to try out for parts in Guenter Rutenborn's Christian drama, "The Sign of Jonah," according to Vernon Lestrud, Speech Department. He emphasizes a special need for men.

The play includes parts for six men and two women. Anyone who wishes to try out should see Lestrud Monday or Tuesday in the Little Theater.

Group To Initiate 2 At Supper Sunday

Joan Pape, junior, and Kay Fritschel, senior, will be initiated into Beta Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary coeducational journalism fraternity, Sunday night.

Initiation supper will be held at 5:30 p.m. at adviser Miss Margaret Wolff's home, 1309 2nd Ave. S.W.

NOT A DISK JOCKEY?

Dave Nelson Spins Records In Union For Audiences At Caf, Game Room

By Linda Mugridge

"Put another nickel in, in the nickel-odeon . . ."

In 1955-56 Wartburg students ignored this song's advice, lumped their nickels together, and to the tune of more than one thousand dollars bought their own "nickel-odeon" — the phonograph and speaker equipment in the Student Memorial Union.

Financed by the Student Body Project, the hi-fi phonograph and speaker system cost $647.80. Another $110 was spent for the cabinet that supports the phonograph and houses the records, estimates Ray Norheim, chairman of the SMU committee. The remaining $300 formed the backbone of the record fund.

MUSIC FOR TWO TYPES of recreation, eating and playing games, is provided by the recording system, which has speakers in the cafeteria and game room. In addition to music during the noon and evening meals, game room dwellers play ping-pong or pool in a haze of jazz during weekday afternoons and evenings.

The SMU's music man is Dave Nelson, senior from Rantoul, Ill. Now assisted by his brother Duane, a freshman, Nelson has been in charge of playing records since the installation of the equipment last year.

Time sheets mean nothing to Nelson, who is paid by the number of visits he makes to the record room. On a typical day, records must be flipped or changed eight times.

"When the machine isn't working right, though, I have to go up to the record room three or four times between regular visits," remarked Nelson.

TROUBLE WITH THE EQUIPMENT itself is the exception rather than the rule, however. Nelson pointed out that the phonograph can be played eight or ten hours a day without harm.

In addition to his daily chores, Nelson is in charge of buying records. An average of $25 a month is spent for phonograph fuel. The albums usually aren't bought on a monthly basis, however, but are purchased in a group at a discount.

"When we first started using the system last year, we had only five albums," remembers Nelson. "The students sure got to know those five albums!"

AT THE PRESENT TIME the record collection is composed mainly of Capitol and Columbia albums and includes show tunes, mood music, Scholarships?

Feb. 28 is the deadline for applying for scholarships, according to Mrs. Florence Hertlein, dean of women and secretary of the Scholarship Committee. These scholarships will be awarded in the spring, and the amount will be applied to the tuition for the second semester of next year.

Wilbur Flachman, sophomore, and Don Bathgate, sophomore, are representing the Wartburg Trumpet at the fourth annual newspaper conference at McMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill., this weekend.

classics, jazz and a few vocals. Seasonal music can be found in the form of four Christmas records. Mantovani, Andre Kostelanetz and the Boston Pops Orchestra lead the flock of recording artists featured in the collection.

Nelson doesn't use a set pattern of rotation in selecting the records to be played each day. Instead, he chooses the discs when the time comes to play them. Jazz is used mainly for the game room, and classical music is played at Sunday dinner. The other albums are heard during the dinner and supper hours.

"I used to get complaints on the kind of music that was played," said Nelson, "but then we can't please everybody in the Student Body. We try to suit the majority."

Wartburg students in 1957-58 can still ignore the plea to "put another nickel in." Free music drifts from the record room every day.

A Campus Church? How?

"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

With these words the psalmist tells of his joy upon entering the house of God. These words, written centuries ago, will soon have special significance for Wartburg students.

Within the foreseeable future, a chapel auditorium will be erected on this campus. And then Wartburg College will finally have its own house of worship on campus.

A chapel of this type will provide many things — a fitting place for evening chapel, a suitable auditorium for convocation and an auditorium for many of the musical events held on campus. However, one question which should also be asked is, "Will it also house a campus church?"

This question, a burning issue last year, has slid into the background this year. But it will be a question which will have to be given serious consideration in the coming years.

A number of questions should be raised. First, is there an actual need and desire for an independent congregation on campus?

A poll taken here last year indicated an overwhelming desire for such a church. As for the question of need, a dual look at the growing Student Body and the overcrowded facilities of St. Paul's shows that there is a definite need.

Then too, the question of finances must also arise. Despite the fact that money may be the root of all evil, it is still an essential ingredient in the promotion of the kingdom of God.

So, how to pay for it? Student contributions should provide the bulk of support. But additional support must also be obtained. It should be the responsibility of the college to provide a student pastor just as it now provides a college chaplain.

The matter of the status of the congregation will also have to be faced. Will it be a regular congregation of the Church? Or will it be in a special category?

And, there's the matter of responsibility. Will students make up the church council? Or will the church be run by the college administration? Or will it be a joint undertaking?

And how about membership? Will all students, ALC Lutherans, all Lutherans or others be welcome? Will faculty members belong?

There are, of course, many questions which must be considered, studied and thought about before such an undertaking can become a reality. What do you think? The Trumpet welcomes letters on the subject and will print all it receives.

Since change as well as being progressive can be column material, this week's column will have a "things we'd like to see" department (also because the columnist couldn't think of anything else about which to write.)

So here goes "things we'd like to see":

Dr. Ottersberg letting a class out five minutes early; Vollmer House with a three-point (Dean Oppermann); The Knight (or have you noticed lately?); Roy's Place buying out Carver's; Outfly in February; Wartburg Choir singing "When the Saints Go Marching In"; Convo once a year; All the faculty at convo; Pastor Schick teaching a snap course; Luther College trying to steal the fish pond; A winning season in football again.

One senior student refers to his courses this semester as "Murderers' Row." He has Sandberg, Schick, Ottersberg, Baetke and Miss Wright's curve.

Comment heard at an off-campus card game: "We ought to make a rule about no dealing off the bottom."

One of the funniest bits of column material that I could ever plagiarize is on the bulletin board in the Pub House. It would unfortunately be censored from the column, but if you want to see it, drop over and take a look see.

Suggested motto for the public relations minded intramural squad at Cotta House: "They study at Cotta or we trade 'em off."

Why doesn't someone propose a Student Body Project to buy Luther their own knight? They seem to want ours so badly.

Think First; Then Vote

Tuesday the Student Body will be called upon to vote for what has become a Wartburg tradition — the Student Body Project. Before the student votes, however, there are a few questions which he should ask himself.

1. Who will get the benefit from it? Will it be the entire Student Body or will it be one segment?
2. Will it be something used during the entire school year or will it be utilized at only one season?
3. Is it something necessary or is it something which can very well be done without?
4. Is the cost reasonable and logical, within the reach of the potential of the amount that will be raised?

So, before marking a choice on the ballot Tuesday, give the matter some thought. Look over the list carefully (it's printed on page 1), ask yourself these questions and then vote.

If it is to be a Student Body Project, it must be the will of the students. It's up to them to decide.

What We Could Use . . .

A few more hangers outside the library — especially when it's cold.

A few less line-crashers in the cafeteria lines — especially at noon.

A few more grown-up college students when it comes to respecting property — especially in the Student Union.

A few more social activities during the weekends to help combat "suitcasism".

A few more people to join organizations and work in them.

A couple more hundred people at chapel each night.

A campus telephone in the Student Union.

Just a little bit of sand on some of the campus ice.

Beth Schardt Fortress Queen

Queen for a night — and a book.

That's Beth Schardt, newly crowned Fortress queen. She received her crown last night during halftime ceremonies of the Wartburg - Iowa Wesleyan game from President C. H. Becker.

The yearbook regent is a sophomore from Wichita, Kan., taking a pre-nursing course. Next year she plans to enter training at Fairview Hospital, Minneapolis, Minn., where she will work for a degree as a graduate nurse.

A 5' 8" BRUNETTE, Miss Schardt was picked for queen by the Fortress staff. A regular on the honor roll, she also is a member of Wartburg Choir and Pi Sigma.

Possible national prominence may be coming her way. As yearbook queen she automatically becomes Wartburg's candidate for Drake Relays Queen in Des Moines this spring.

"I DON'T KNOW what to say," she said after being crowned last night, "but I really am thrilled."

In addition to her academic and extracurricular activities, she also serves as secretary to

Knights Clobber Wesleyan—Meet TC Tonight

Axmen Take Early Lead And Roll To 86-65 Win

By Charles Maahs

Bouncing back from a mid-season slump, Wartburg took a big stride toward third place in the Iowa Conference by decisively whipping highly regarded Iowa Wesleyan, 85-65, last night in Knights Gym.

The Knights rolled to their fourth straight win with another powerful offensive display. The victory enabled the Knights to move within a half-game of the third-place Wesleyan Tigers in the conference standings.

Senior forwards Fred Jaspers and John Adix playing their last game on the home floor, spearheaded the Knights convincing win. Wartburg started slowly but caught fire after the first six minutes when they went into the lead for the first time 9-7, on a pair of jump shots by guard Dennis Wessels.

THE AXMEN WERE NEVER headed after this and increased their lead to 12 points by outscoring the Tigers 9-2 in the last three minutes of the half, as Wartburg surged to a 39-27 half time bulge.

Coach Bundgaard inserted reserve forward Wayne Slack into the second-half starting lineup and the lanky fireman teamed up with Adix to form a one-two punch which scored Wartburg's first 18 points. Adix hit on several long jumpshots from the outside while Slack hooked in close to keep the Tiger defense confused.

Lacking the services of Don Gibbs, who fouled out of the game with 8:36 showing on the clock, the Tigers wilted under the offensive pressure of the Knights.

PLAYING THEIR final game on the home floor, seniors Jaspers and Adix received a standing ovation from the crowd as they left the game. Wartburg basketball czar Adix fired home 13 baskets for a new personal career field goal record.

Adix's 26 points led all scorers and was a seasonal high for a Knight performer this year. Jaspers added 11 points and played an outstanding floor game. Gibbs was high for Wesleyan with 17 points.

WARTBURG STORMED to an early lead after hitting seven out of its first eight shots, and then crushed Buena Vista College, 107-76, in an Iowa Conference game last Saturday night. Usually tough on their home floor, the Beavers were overwhelmed by the Knights, who canned 44 out of 89 field goal attempts, establishing a new record in field goals.

In winning, the Knights, an outstanding defensive unit, again bared their new offensive fangs as they went over the 100-point mark for the first time this season and scored over 90 points for the second straight game. Wartburg put together two balanced halves, with 53 and 54 points, and led at the intermission, 53-35.

DURING THE SECOND half, Wartburg continued its deadly shooting. With three minutes left in the game, the Knights topped the century mark on a jump shot by forward Wayne Slack.

Wartburg held a statistical edge for the game. The Knights shot nearly 50 per cent to Buena Vista's 36 per cent from the field and captured 55 rebounds to the Beavers' 40.

Seven Wartburg players scored in double figures. Forward John Adix paced the team with 11 fielders in 15 shots for 22 points, and guard Dave Jensen added 17 points. Jerry Ibach scored 22 points for BV.

Squires Down Cotta On Big Second Half

Cotta House's much-heralded intercampus tiff with Coach Bob Campbell's freshmen came off last night, resulting in a 65-49 victory for the frosh. Half-time score was 28-26 in favor of the Squires.

High man for the Squires was Marv Ott with 13 while Cotta's Don Hamilton hit 15.

Adix Nominated As All-American

John Adix, senior, has been nominated for the National Athletic Intercollegiate Association All-American basketball squad, it was announced by Ken Starck, Iowa District publicity chairman.

Adix, moving from guard to forward this year, has scored more than 1,250 points during his four-year career, including 287 up until the Wesleyan game last night.

The 6'2" forward has started every game at Wartburg since he came as a freshman in 1954. He helped lead the Knights to one conference championship and three post-season tournaments.

Coach Ax Bundgaard terms him "the most phenomenal player I've ever coached."

Announcement of the All-American squad will be made immediately following the national NAIA tournament in Kansas City, Mo., March 10-15.

Matmen Face Peacocks

After winning two straight last week from Coe College and South Dakota State, Wartburg matmen will try to extend their winning streak this afternoon when they face Upper Iowa in Knights Gym at 2.

Meeting South Dakota last Saturday in Knights Gym, the Knights came from behind, 13-11, in the last match when Bruce Brye, sophomore, defeated Ellis Jensen, 6-4. Brye trailed Jensen at the end of the first period 1-0 before he went on to win and wrap up the meet for Wartburg, 14-13.

Wednesday the Knights traveled to Cedar Rapids, where they extended their season record to 4-3 by dumping Coe 19-9. Coach Norm Johansen's grunt-and-groan men won five out of eight matches in the contest.

Upper Iowa, in their first season of intercollegiate wrestling, will bring a 3-3 record to town when they meet the Knights Saturday. In their last meet they defeated the Cedar Rapids YMCA.

College Bowlers Hit Season's Peak; Other Intramural Activity Slows

Reaching their full potential for the first time this season, college keggers struck without mercy in a superb exhibition of masterful bowling. Jim Boyenga led the assault, hitting with consistency for games of 210, 191 and 182 and the season's high series, 583.

Denny Krominga and Mel Nass pounded the pins for impressive series of 560 and 556, respectively. Krominga's 213 was good for high game. Four other bowlers, Doug Schuldt, Howie Hof, Darwin Fritz and Lyle Wilharm, also broke through the 500 barrier.

IM basketball came to a standstill, as the high school seasonals took over the Knights' Gym for the week.

Wind Season Up On Road

Playing their second game in two nights, Wartburg moves out of the conference race tonight when the Knights travel to Cedar Falls to try to avenge an early season tournament loss to Iowa State Teachers.

In the second game of the second annual Tall Corn Holiday Tournament, sponsored jointly by the Knights and the Panthers, the Axmen fell, 57-54, before ISTC.

LED BY FORWARD Frank Stotts, the Panthers have, however, been having a rough time of it this year. Possessing only an 8-12 record this season, the Teachers quintet is currently tied for last place with Morningside in the North Central Conference.

Friday night, the Knights begin the first leg of a two-night road trip to wind up the regular season. Simpson hosts the Axmen the first night at Indianola, and Wartburg moves over to Central Saturday night.

SIMPSON, IN FIFTH place in the conference with a 6-7 record, fell before Wartburg earlier in the season 66-46.

The Knights are expected to be at full strength in both games. John Tuecke, 6'6" center, returned to action in the Wartburg 107-76 win over Buena Vista after having been injured in the Central contest.

Nine letter winners were initiated into the 'W' club Wednesday night, according to president Nelson Bose.

Those who were honored were freshmen Tom Van Wynn, Larry Collman, Wayne Dreier, Charles Wallen, Dennis Krominga and Gary Queck. Sophomores were Walter Bolin and Jerry Ford. Paul Rebelein was the only junior.

All except Rebelein, a letter winner in track, won their numerals in football.

International Emphasis – Theme Of Week's Convo

Dr. William C. Lang and Dr. Lyman Harris of Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, will be featured at convocation for the coming International Emphasis Week.

On Tuesday, Dr. Lang will speak to the faculty and Student Body on the challenge to education presented by the new age of hydrogen bombs and earth satellites. He will briefly review what schools have done and what he believes the new directions will have to be.

THURSDAY, DR. HARRIS will speak to students and faculty about the Soviet Union as he saw it last summer.

Dr. Lang, department head of social science at Cedar Falls, received his B.A. from Yankton College, Yankton, S.D. His graduate work for the Ph.D. was taken at the University of Iowa. After receiving his degree, Lang taught in Yankton College.

In 1949 he came to Iowa State Teachers College as associate professor of history. Later, he became department head of social science there.

BESIDES LANG'S college work, he has been active in community enterprises and educational associations such as Phi Delta Kappa, Phi Kappa Delta and Pi Gamma Mu.

A native of Tennessee, Harris graduated from Lee University and is also a member of the TC Social Science Department. He holds a Ph. D. from the University of Wisconsin, where he taught one year after graduation. This is his first year at TC.

Miss Dhein will open her part of the program with "Alma del core" by Caldara followed by "Tell Me, Fair Ladies" from the "Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart. Brahms' "O That I might Retrace the Way" is next on the program.

"THE BONDMAID" BY LALO, "Trees" by Rosbach, "Tryst" by Bone and Fenton, "Velvet Shoes" by Duke and "I Heard You Singing" by Coats will comprise the remainder of her program.

Bundle up and grab your ice skates, gang, there's skating Friday night. Centennial Hall (South Wing) is sponsoring an All-School Ice Skating Party, provided, of course, that the ice remains in its present unthawed condition. As plans stand now the fun gets underway at 7:30 at (surprise) the river. A bonfire will be lit on the island — to keep you warm, I guess.

And for those of us who don't skate, a social hour is scheduled for 9:30 in the cafeteria. Everyone is invited to come and drink hot chocolate and listen to the music of our Knights of Knote.

Interested in becoming a missionary? Or just interested in mission work? If so, here is a note for you. Mission Fellowship meets Tuesday with a special program planned. The color film "Zulu Harvest" will be shown.

As evident from the title, this film is about mission work in Zululand, South Africa. Actually, according to what President Herbie Hafermann told me, the film should be of interest to all on campus. So come one, come all, to the Mission Fellowship meeting in Wartburg Hall Lounge at 7:15.

Evening chapel features all students this week. Leonard Flachman, Robert Hannemann, John Wilker, August Borchardt and Joy Eisenhauer will lead the services on consecutive evenings. First chapel is at 6:15 and late chapel at 6:45.

There's good music in store for Wartburg Sunday at 8 p.m. when the Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra presents its mid-winter concert. Knights Gymnasium is the location.

And here's what Emil Blobaum has to say about Camera Club: Featured at the Thursday night meeting is a sound movie called "The Magic Box That Remembers." That's in Room 203 Luther Hall at 7:30. No admission, and everyone's invited to attend.

And Ron Pfohl informs the column that Science Club meets Tuesday at 7:15 p.m. in Grossmann Hall Lounge. Dr. H. C. Trimble of Iowa State Teachers College will speak on "A Code Based On 11." This, I hear, deals with codes and breaking them. Sounds interesting.

See you at the skating party.

'Bye

Ivy League

Is it ever Ivy! Why, Coke is the most correct beverage you can possibly order on campus. Just look around you. What are the college social leaders going for? Coca-Cola! So take a leaf out of their Ivy League book and do the same! Enjoy the good taste of Coke!
